Dear Mike,

As graduation nears, and I actually have some time to reflect on the events of the academic year, I realize I have been remiss in formally thanking you for coming to Barton College.

Your presentation was truly a high point in our effort to constantly address all aspects of student health issues. I heard positive comments from students and faculty following your program. One student was heard to say, "We need more programs like this."

In my opinion you engaged the audience quickly. It seems you had their attention and respect. Your serious, important messages were presented to the students on their level and I think they appreciated that.

We definitely want to have you return and I will recommend you to other schools and colleges without hesitation.

Best wishes for continued success in positively influencing students.

Sincerely,

Courtney Manning, MSW, LCSW
Director of Counseling
